TO COUNTERACT WILSON'S MOVE

Ultra-Prohibitionists Plan Legislation Which Will Prevent Wet Period of Few Months

REP. RANDALL HAS A BILL

President Favors Repeal War-Time Prohibition When Possible—Country Dry Tonight

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 30.—Continuing with the nation-wide prohibition was to be announced as the aim of the ultra-prohibitionists in congress today. On receipt of President Wilson's word to have the war time prohibition act repealed as soon as is legally possible, the drys are planning to push through congress legislation that will prevent a wet period of a few months between the time the president declared the war time prohibition at an end and the great draught of constitutional prohibition.

As the first step in this campaign, Representative Randall, California, prohibition party man introduced in the house this afternoon a bill to enact a peace measure to prohibit the removal from bond or transportation in interstate commerce of the 70 million gallons of distilled spirits now stored, between the date of the president's proclamation and that of constitutional prohibition.

The prohibitionists believe this plan will prevent a respite for the wet because the stock of beer will be well exhausted at that time.

Saloon keepers who are known to violate the war time prohibition act will be arrested and prosecuted, W. Frierson, assistant attorney general, stated today.

This is the answer of the department of justice to reports that liquor dealers in many large cities would ignore the law.

The war-time prohibition law provides a fine not to exceed $1,000 or imprisonment not to exceed one year, or both.

Frierson said no specific instructions had been sent out to federal district attorneys but it is known that many of them have been in touch with the department and advised to enforce the law the same as any other federal statute. In the meantime a measure will be before congress which will provide more adequate machinery to enforce the law.

Disposition of the seventy million gallons of liquor in bond is a question which has been raised. At present there is no law to prevent transportation although the legislation before congress prohibits exportation.

Washington, June 30.—Uncle Sam, for years past the greatest consumer of intoxicating liquor, tonight will take his seat on the world's water wagon.

Nation-wide prohibition—the dream of reformers for a century—becomes a reality at midnight, when the War-Time Prohibition Act, passed during the struggle with Germany to conserve food, went into effect, despite the appeal of President Wilson that Congress repeal it as it affects beer and light wines. Under the act all manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors are crimes against the United States.

Whether Uncle Sam will desert the well-known water wagon, for a time, before the constitutional prohibition replaces the War-Time Prohibition Act, depends on Congress and President Wilson. Congress can repeal the act, as the president partially desires, or the act can remain in effect until the constitutional prohibition is enacted.

19 AMERICANS ARE KILLED Other Casualties Suffered When Siberian Rail Guards Are Attacked

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 30.—Nineteen American soldiers were killed, two died of wounds, eight seriously injured and seventeen slightly wounded, when Anti-Kolchak forces attacked railroad guards of the American expedition in Siberia yesterday, the war department announced today.

WAR BRIDES ABOARD GEORGE WASHINGTON

SOME FAREWELL MESSAGES

On Board the U. S. S. George Washington, Sunday, June 29.—Several thousand returning American soldiers and a score of pretty French war brides are on board the presidential ship on its voyage to the United States. A number of the soldiers who were members of the guards at the Paris white house and the Hotel de Crillon, headquarters of the American delegation, were married during their sojourn in Paris.

The regulations provided no means for the brides to accompany their husbands aboard the George Washington, and for a while it seemed that they might be left behind. A tearful joint dispatch from the brides to President Wilson, however, led to the making of arrangements for their accommodation and they are one of the happiest novelties of the voyage, which so far has been in perfect weather and on a calm sea.

Farewell messages were received by President Wilson from King George, of England; King Alfonso, of Spain, and the emperor of Japan. The one from King George makes allusion to "the American and British people, brothers in arms, who will continue ever in peace."

It was a majestic naval spectacle that President Wilson saw as he stood on the bridge of the George Washington watching the receding shores of Europe and waving farewell as the French shore batteries boomed a parting salute.

SALOONS WILL HAVE A BIG NIGHT IN CHICAGO

Patrons Will Be Permitted to Remain as Long as They Please to Celebrate Closing

RECORD REVEL IS PLANNED

(Chicago, June 30.—Many saloonkeepers and proprietors of restaurants where liquor is sold, planned to keep their places open tonight long after midnight, when war-time prohibition goes into effect. They expect to sell large quantities of liquors to patrons up to midnight and will permit them to remain as long as they desire to consume it.

Thousands of revelers were made in hotels and restaurants for the celebration of the passing of liquor and prohibition. A record revel was expected to surpass those that have taken place on New Year's Eve.

GEN. HACKLEMAN TO BE HONORED

Enlarged Picture of Distinguished Rush County War Hero to be Placed in Museum

EFFORTS OF COL. ORAN PERRY

Appeal to Local People For Contributions Last March For This Purpose Brought no Response

Brigadier General Pleasant A. Hackleman, who lived in Rushville many years and is claimed by Rush county as a native son, will be honored without the assistance of Rush county people, Colonel Oran J. Perry, who on March 12 wrote to the Republican and urged that the people of Rush county be urged to contribute $50 to place an enlarged picture of the Indiana general in the war museum in Indianapolis, has announced that an Indianapolis firm has answered his appeal and has supplied the picture.

After the request from Col. Perry, a story was printed in the Republican asking for contributions to buy the picture, and several local persons who it was thought would be interested, were interviewed, but no one showed sufficient interest to give any money to place the picture of Gen. Hackleman, the only Indiana general killed in the civil war, in the museum in Indianapolis.

No tribute in any form has ever been paid to the valor of General Hackleman although every other Indiana hero in the civil war has been honored in some way by the state. Efforts have been made repeatedly to get an appropriation from the state legislature to erect a monument to the memory of Gen. Hackleman, either in Indianapolis or Rushville, but they have always met with failure.

Col. Perry, who served as a sergeant major in Gen. Hackleman's regiment and was personally acquainted with the famous Hoosier, has taken a deep interest in the attempts which have been made to get some recognition from the state of Gen. Hackleman's part in the civil war, and he felt that his museum would not be complete without a picture of the Indiana general. The picture was contributed by the W. H. Bass Photo company and is on display in the windows of the Herman Art store in Indianapolis. The art store contributed the frame which is on the picture.

Gen. Hackleman had a brilliant career, figuring prominently in early Indiana politics and being among the first to volunteer in the civil war. In the army he rose rapidly. He was killed while leading an attack in the battle of Corinth on Oct. 3, 1862.

Gen. Hackleman was born at Brookville, Ind., Nov. 15, 1814. He studied law with John A. Matson and moved to Rushville in 1837 and was elected judge of the circuit court. In 1841 he was elected to the state legislature and served two terms. In 1847 and in 1858 he was defeated for congress, the district being overwhelmingly democratic. In 1847 he was appointed clerk of the circuit court, serving eight years. In 1852 he was an elector on the Wang ticket.

Gen. Hackleman was chairman of a great political mass meeting at Indianapolis in 1860 and was a delegate at large at the Chicago convention which nominated Lincoln. In 1861 he served as a member of the peace commission which was sent to Washington to attempt to prevent war between the states. The general also was distinguished in the military service of the Union.

SOMEBODY GOT MAYOR'S NUMBER

LOSS DISCOVERED SUNDAY

Mayor Irvin Drives to Brookville And Takes Card With Him to Show he Had a License

Somebody has got the mayor's number. Didn't borrow it, but simply jerked the numbers right out of their bolts. Mayor Irvin started out on an auto trip yesterday, and while cleaning up the machine, noticed the rear number plate was gone. He went around to the front end and found it was gone also.

He used the machine last Sunday, and then parked it away in his garage until Friday night, when he had occasion to go to the country. At this time he never noticed the number plates and it was not until Sunday that they were missed.

Whoever took the numbers, did not take time to unscrew them but simply jerked them from their bolts, and left the brackets and bolts on the machine. The license number was 4180.

Just what the person had in mind in taking the numbers is not definitely known, but it is strongly suspected that he wanted to see the mayor arrested for violating the motor laws, and one or two persons were known to be attempting to push the charges, but at a late hour the mayor had not arrested.

Several persons are suspected by the mayor of having taken the plates and it is said that search warrants will be issued in an effort to locate them and bring the guilty ones to trial.

Mayor Irvin went to Indianapolis this afternoon to explain the situation to the auto license department of the secretary of state's office and to get new plates.

Mayor Irvin took his card with him when he went to Brookville yesterday, to be used as evidence, to show that he had obtained a license, in case he was arrested.

It is presumed that someone stole the license plates to put the mayor in an embarrassing position because he has enforced practically all of the automobile laws to the letter in Rushville, and has brought upon himself much bitter criticism.

C. I. & W. TRAIN HITS FRONT END OF MACHINE

PEOPLE IN CAR ARE UNHURT

Another serious accident was averted at the Main street crossing on the C. I. & W. railroad, last Saturday night about nine o'clock when the engine on the westbound passenger brushed the front end of an automobile driven by Ed Newby of near Glenwood.

Mr. Newby and his family were driving to the street intersection at the railroad crossing to turn their machine around and were swinging around to the south when the engine hit the front end and headed the machine toward a pole. The occupant saw the train coming and had time to get out before being struck. No damage resulted and as the train was going slowly it soon stopped.

This crossing has been the scene of several accidents lately, and it is probable that for all of them the result was only minor damage.

MONEY ORDERS COST MORE Minimum Fee Will be Five Cents Instead of Three

The local office of the American Railways Express company has received an order which raises the price of money orders. The minimum fee charged under the new rates will be five cents instead of three. All express orders up to and including five dollars will cost three cents, and the other amounts are in proportion. The new rates are effective July 1.

MANY BINDERS WERE RUNNING ON SUNDAY

Wheat is so Heavy This Year That it Was Imperative Farmers Not Lose Any Time

GRAIN RIPENED QUICKLY

Many binders were run in Rush county Sunday, recalling the harvest of last summer when farmers cut wheat on Sunday because of the shortage of farm labor. It was not so much the scarcity of help, this year, that caused the farmers to work on the seventh day, but the fact that the wheat is so heavy that it was imperative that the grain be cut at once before it got down so badly that a percent of the grain would be lost. The army work is said to have worked on some fields, causing some of the stalks to fall over.

It is believed that the most of the wheat in Rush county has been cut.

In most cases, farmers with small crops finished up the latter part of last week. They took advantage of the cool weather and worked from early in the morning until sunset. Farmers declare that they do not remember the year when wheat ripened so quickly. Most fields were dead ripe when they were cut. Some cases are reported of fields which actually looked green when cutting started, but which were so ripe before they were all cut that it was difficult to run the binder.

150 ARE KILLED IN EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS

Dispatch From Rome Says 100 Persons Lost Their Lives at Vechino, Italy, Last Night

EIGHT VILLAGES DESTROYED

London, June 30.—One hundred and fifty persons were killed at Florence and Bologna, Italy, in a succession of earthquakes last night, according to an Exchange Telegraph company dispatch from Rome today.

At Vechino, Italy, 100 persons were killed, the dispatch said. It added that several hundred persons were injured in three cities.

The earth shock continued throughout the night.

Rome, June 30.—The Newspaper Tempo said today that eight villages were almost destroyed in Friday's earthquake. A church at Maradella collapsed, killing four persons.

SOON TO COMPLETE AUSTRIAN TREATY

With Lloyd George in London and Wilson on Way Home, Peace Commission Goes to Work

SEND-OFF FOR THE PRESIDENT

Speculation Indugled in as to How Allies Will Take Holloway's Offer To Stand Trial

(By United Press.)

Paris, June 30.—Frank Polk, under secretary of the state, is scheduled to replace Secretary Lansing on the American peace commission when the latter returns to America. Wilson enroute home and Premier not been fixed.

Paris, June 30.—Premier Clemenceau today submitted the German treaty to the chamber of deputies. He also submitted the Anglo-Franco-American protective alliance.

"Salvation of the world is an accomplished fact," said Clemenceau as he submitted the treaty.

"We wanted this peace. We will make this peace the same as we made war. It is a friendly peace between friendly nations. But we must yet make peace with ourselves for means of abatement of the old international conflict. This peace is only possible through constant effort and permanent heroism."

Paris, June 30.—With President Wilson enroute home and Premier Lloyd George in London, the allied peace commissioners were expected to take up today, completion of the Austrian peace treaty.

Agreement on the principles of the reparation reached last week was believed to have paved the way for speedy assembling of the remainder of the document. The allies will present the financial and economic clauses to the Austrians this week, it was learned.

The president sailed from Brest on the transport George Washington at 2:35 yesterday afternoon, escorted by the dreadnaught Oklahoma and four destroyers.

Although there was but little ceremony attending the leave-taking at Brest, the president was given a send-off in Paris, Saturday night, equal to the one given on his first return trip.

Secretary Von Haniel, of the German peace commission and twenty-nine other members of that body left Versailles for Cologne on a special train at 9:20 this morning.

The Franco-American convention was signed Saturday on behalf of the two governments, according to the newspapers. It is said that the covenant includes several articles and specifies that violations of the peace treaty by Germany will give France the right to request American and British assistance.

The Journal says that the conference in the signing of the convention of the peace treaty on the same day is part of the spirit of the union among the associated states to see that the treaty is carried out.

Official notification to Germany that the blockade will not be raised until the treaty is ratified by Germany was given in the form of a resolution adopted by the council of four and presented to the German delegation before its departure for Berlin. The resolution is as follows: "The superior blockade council is instructed to base its arrangements for resumption of trade upon the ratification of the peace treaty by Germany."

The allied and associated powers will not wait to raise the blockade until the completion of ratification, but will proceed for the end of the treaty with Germany, but that it will be raised immediately upon receipt of a statement that the treaty has been ratified by Germany.

AUSTRIAN TREATY

Goodwin, the Russian of the blockade, Germany's participation in the treaty is regarded in a different light. It is a sure plan for bringing about a speedy ratification because of Germany's food and raw material needs.

Russia was practically blockaded as a result of the blockade against the central powers, the opinion is held that when the blockade ceases, there will be no blockade against Russia. However, Soviet Russia's lack of credit and inability to make financial arrangements is looked on by financial advisers connected with the conference as a bar to Russia's resumption of trade on a large scale.

German Papers Are Bitter

Berlin, June 30.—The German reactionary press was mostly silent today regarding the signing of the peace treaty. Several papers, however, were outspokenly bitter toward the terms.

"The signing is treason," said one paper. "The nation's general election will show what the Germans think of the treaty."

"It is a scrap of paper," declared the Tageblatt. The Vorwaerts hopes the war's official end at least will enable the Germans to begin work of rehabilitation.

Much speculation was indulged in as to how the allies will take the act of Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, that he be tried instead of the former kniser for responsibility for causing the war.

"As imperial chancellor," said Hollweg, "I will bear the sole responsibility for the political acts of the kaiser. I hereby place myself at the disposal of the allies and the associated powers."

The former chancellor wished to offer himself as the scape goat on May 20 but refrained at the request of the government.

BERLIN WORKERS TO STRIKE

Berlin, June 30.—The trolley and subway workers voted today for a general strike to be called Tuesday. The railroad strike situation is improved. Armed trains and tanks have arrived in the vicinity of Hamburg, but it is not known whether they have entered the city.

More than seventy-five disability and tuberculosis cases a day are reported to the Lake Division, Bureau of After-Care, for aid. Up to date division workers have had charge of almost 10,000 cases reported by psychopathic hospitals, and by camp hospitals in this country and overseas.

ROADS IN NATIONAL FORESTS

New Law Makes Available for Expenditure $9,000,000 for Roads and Trails

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

The development of the national forest road systems is given great impetus by the terms of the post office appropriations act which the president has signed. Besides increasing by $200,000,000 the total fund available under the federal aid road act, the new law makes available for expenditure by the secretary of agriculture $9,000,000 for roads and trails.

The law also authorizes the secretary of war to transfer to the secretary of agriculture, material, equipment and supplies suitable for highway improvement and not needed by the war department. While most of this will be distributed among the highway commissions of the states for use on federal aid road projects, not to exceed 10 per cent may be reserved by the secretary of agriculture for use in building natural forest roads or other roads constructed under his direct supervision.

The $9,000,000 fund may be used for maintenance as well as survey and construction. The new legislation, like the federal aid road act, authorizes the building of roads and trails necessary for the use and development of national forest resources or desirable for the proper administration, protection, and improvement of such forest, or cooperative local contributions can be obtained, but in addition it contains a new feature of much importance.

This new feature permits the secretary of agriculture without the co-operation of local officials to build and maintain "any road or trail within a national forest which he finds necessary for the proper administration, protection and improvement of such forest, or which in his opinion is of national importance." In the view of forestry officials this law is the most important step ever taken for rapid development of national forest roads system, and will be of inestimable benefit to the local public.

"The measure gives us much broader scope for a fully developed program than we have had before," says Henry S. Graves, chief of the forest service, in commenting on the new law. "Under the federal aid road act we had for roads within or partly within the forests, $1,000,000 a year, available until expended. Owing to the war, we have practically halted the work, we have an accumulated balance of $2,500,000 unexpended and another $1,000,000 which will become available July 1.

"This legislation will not only make it easier to protect the forests without costly expenditures to fight bad fires in inaccessible localities, but will also help enormously the many small communities and scattered settlers in and near the forests who now suffer for lack of roads. It will also enable the construction of important trunk-line roads crossing the mountains, with suitable provision of subsidiary roads. One result unquestionably will be a marked development of recreational use of these great national playgrounds with their wealth of too little known attractions. Altogether, the opening up of the forests to more complete and varied use by the public, which is the fundamental object of their administration, will be tremendously advanced."

Under the law preference is given to the employment of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines for the required labor.

STREET OILING IS FINISHED SATURDAY

Four Cars of Oil Are Used to Cover Thoroughly all the Unpaved Streets in Rushville

SOME ARE GIVEN TWO COATS.

The work of oiling the city streets was completed Saturday, according to an announcement made this morning by Street Commissioner Will Havens. The streets were all given a good oiling and in many places two coats was necessary. The amount of oil used was four cars, and the street department was on the job for nine days.

The oil this year seems to have a thinner coat than usual but this was caused by heating the oil to a boiling temperature before applying. It is gradually soaking into the ground now, and Street Commissioner Havens stated that as soon as the sun was real hot, it would rapidly soak in.

Engineer Edward Griswald's Condition Suddenly Grows Worse

Edward Griswald, the Big Four engineer who was seriously injured in a wreck here a week ago last Wednesday, when his engine collided with a C. I. & W. engine at the intersection of their tracks, was reported today as being in a most serious condition, and the attending physicians held little hope for his recovery. Mr. Griswald was expected to get well, and even up until yesterday noon was getting along as nicely as could be expected, but late last night his condition became worse. Relatives were summoned from various places. His wife was still at his bedside. Mr. Griswald is a resident of Wabash.

MILITARY CONTROLS BREST

Brawl Between Americans and French Marines is Responsible

(By United Press.)
Brest, June 30.—As a result of a brawl between Americans and French marines in which several Frenchmen were wounded, the streets of Brest were placed under military control today.

French civilians joined in the fight and stoned and hurt many Americans. The hotel where the Americans were quartered was besieged. Military police fired their revolvers into the air as a means of clearing up the streets.

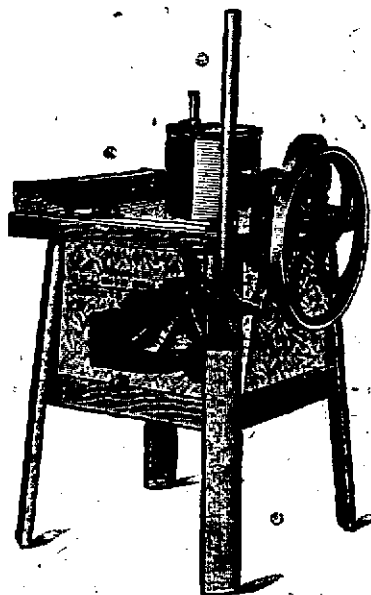

The Red Cross, through the League of Red Cross societies of the world, is entering on a new war service. This time "typhus" is the enemy. The spread of the deadly malady through Poland is being checked by intensive efforts on the part of Red Cross doctors, nurses, and workers overseas.

Will The Treaty Bring Peace?

With the war legally brought to an end by the signing of the peace treaty at Versailles, Saturday, after months of deliberation by the allied representatives, the average citizen's first thought is whether the pact will really bring peace for all time to come.

The claim of proponents of the league of nations is that the treaty will bring the realization of the dream of all civilized peoples, while its opponents are equally extravagant in their claims that the league, instead of ending war, will excite the world to conflict.

With two such opposite views, the person who is not in a position to study the question thoroughly knows not which way to turn. One thing is evident—that Germany has not been converted overnight to the ideals of the allied leaders. Although the country's representatives signed the peace treaty without reservations, the comment of German newspapers indicates that German ideas have not changed one whit. They still cling to the belief that they are ordained to rule the world and that they shall have vengeance for being compelled to right the wrongs which they have done.

The Deutsche Zeitung of Berlin says:

German honor today will be carried to its grave in the Hall of Mirrors, in which, in the glorious year of '71, the German empire was resurrected in all its former splendor. Let us forget! In restless labor the German people will again strive to attain that place among the nations of the world to which it is entitled. Then vengeance for the disgrace of 1919!

The Tageblatt says: "The German people reject the treaty which its delegates are signing today, and it does not believe for a single moment that it will endure. Despite the fact that it is written on parchment it still remains a scrap of paper, because it is a mockery of all the laws of reason and morals and the most disgraceful exhibit in the museum of civilization."

Sickly people, somehow or other, manage to outlive their doctors.

There is more fun in laughing at yourself than in laughing at others.

A good prophet waits until the thing it over, and then says: "I told you so."

No one is so altogether right that he can say the other fellow is altogether wrong.

It is a greater success to succeed in being happy than to run up a high score in a bank book.

Hez Heck says: "The principal difference between a patent medicine man and a doctor is that one pays for his advertising and the other doesn't."

$186,750,000,000 in money. The ostensible cause of the war, which has left its impress upon all the people on the globe was the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand at Sarajevo. Although Austria made a pretense of holding Serbia accountable for the death of the young Austrian heir-apparent, it has been undeniably proved that the central powers had an ulterior motive—that Germany was prepared for war and expected to overcome its enemies quickly, and used Austria as a tool to accomplish its ends.

The peace treaty was signed just two years and two days after the first American troops landed in France, June 26, 1917.

The rapidity with which big events moved in those memorable days in the summer of 1914 are readily recalled. On July 28, one month after the death of Francis Ferdinand, Austria declared war on Serbia, marking the beginning of hostilities. On Aug. 1, Germany declared war on Russia and invaded Luxemburg. Germany sent her ultimatum to Belgium Aug. 3 and declared war on France Aug. 3. The next day Great Britain declared war on Germany.

June 28 also is the anniversary of the renewal of the triple alliance between Germany, Austria and Italy, which has been broken by the war.

On June 28, 1890, the German Reichstag adopted a bill creating a new German army, the organization of which is practically obliterated in power by the treaty signed Saturday.

The American people ran the gamut of their emotions on two occasions, celebrating the end of the war, and it was natural that they should receive the news of the signing of the peace treaty quietly.

With the Army worm having passed into the resting stage, the seventeen-year locust proved a flivver and the peace treaty signed, we may once more settle down to commonplace discussions of the weather.

The back-to-the farm movement evidently has not made sufficient appeal to the returning soldiers of Rush county, for the farm labor shortage seems to be as big a question as during the days of the war.

If the special session of the legislature would ratify the suffrage amendment to the constitution and stop there, lots of folks would be relieved.

As the hot summer weather begins, the young woman breathes reverently "Thank God for organys."

HOTEL RETURNED TO OWNER
West Baden Springs Had Been Used as Hospital for Wounded

West Baden, Ind., June 30—Uncle Sam today returned the West Baden Springs hotel to its owners. It had been used during the war as a Base Hospital for wounded soldiers, whose homes for the most part, were in Indiana. It has not been used for this purpose since May 1, however.

Officers and men of the quarter-masters corps have been quartered in the hotel since the last patient was transferred.

Officials of the springs company, which owns the hotel, met here today to receive their property formally.

TRAIN DELAYED HERE

The east bound passenger train on the C. I. & W., due here at 11:28 a. m., was delayed here yesterday for a little over two hours on account of engine trouble. The engine had a broken water pipe which caused the fire to go out, and it was necessary to send an engine here from Indianapolis.

Because the present supply of public health nurses is too small to supply the demand throughout the country, the Red Cross has appropriated $100,000 for scholarships and $3,000 for loans to assist nurses who want to take post-graduate courses, fitting themselves for this work.

4th Episode of "The Red Glove"

The mystery of the plot of "The Red Glove" starts to thicken notably in the fourth episode, which will be shown at the Mystic theater tonight. Gentleman Geoff, shot to death by the Vultures in defense of the Blue Chip saloon, makes a confession in which he admits that he is not the father of Billie, the role played by Marie Walcamp. An L-Ko comedy, "Rough on Husbands," and a news reel showing current events, will also be on the program tonight.

Splendid Ray Picture

Charles Ray, the popular Thomas H. Ince star in Paramount pictures has a splendid photoplay in "Greased Lightning" which is the bill at the Princess tonight. Mr. Ray is an inventive genius in the story and the race he makes to capture a robber is one of the most thrilling ever pictured. The support generally is excellent, Wanda Hawley being the leading woman.

William S. Hart's new Arterial picture, "The Money Corral," which comes to the Princess tomorrow is one of the best photoplays in which Mr. Hart has been seen in many a day. It is announced that in the making of the big rodeo scenes for this film, all the cow-boys, punchers, Indians and Mexicans within a hundred miles came to take part in the episodes that required fast riding, shooting, roping, etc.

Bill Hart is prominent in these scenes himself. Later the story takes the principal characters to Chicago and the western hero is introduced to the underworld crooks. He bests them, saves a trust company, wins a charming girl for his wife and is presented with a ranch in Montana by his grateful employer, the president of a trust company.

British Build Monster Plane

(By United Press.)

Farnborough, England, (By Mail)—The Tarrant Aircraft Construction Company has just finished building the biggest aeroplane in the world.

It is a triplane, the middle plane of which is 131 feet wide. Above and below this are two planes, each 98 feet long. All three planes are 15 feet 2 inches deep. The body is 76 feet long (10 feet longer than the biggest biplane), and the height is 37 feet.

The pilot's seat juts out 12 feet beyond the line of the planes. The body of the machine resembles a whale in length and girth, with a great blunt-ended nose. Between the planes are six Napier-Lion engines, each developing 500-horsepower. Four of them operate two-bladed tractor propellers; two of them four-bladed "pusher" propellers.

The Explosion of An Ancient Legend

A LETTER received last week from one who signs himself "Constant User" asks why the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) insists that the gravity test for gasoline is a fallacy.

Not having his address we are answering the inquiry here.

When the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) began manufacturing gasoline the surest, safest, most practical method known for determining the quality of the product was by testing it with a hydrometer.

In those days all of the crude oil used came from a single locality. It was of the same base always and the products refined from it were uniform.

As the industry grew and oil wells were found in widely separated localities it was discovered that the crude varied so greatly even when taken from wells in the same locality that the hydrometer no longer could be depended upon to indicate the quality of the refined product with satisfactory exactness. Some other system of measurement had to be used.

The chemical engineers employed by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), who were asked to solve the problem, suggested that the boiling points of the several fractions, which go to make gasoline, would give the desired result. They would be constant and the usefulness of the product would not vary so long as the range of boiling point fractions remained unchanged.

The practical usefulness of the suggestion was instantly recognized, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) immediately adopted it as the basis of their manufacturing practice.

By making its product conform to the boiling point standard, it was possible to guarantee uniform results at all times, even though the hydrometer might show variation in gravity.

We know uniformity is of the most vital importance to the ultimate consumer. That is why we insist that gravity is of no value in determining the value of gasoline as a fuel, because it can not indicate the gaps.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is steadfast in its endeavor to render the greatest service possible to the motoring public and it is constantly trying to so improve the fuel and oils it sells as to give to its patrons a greater value for the money they spend with it.

ARGONNE BATTLE STAGED AT TACOMA
Object of Jubilee Is to Raise $500,000 With Which to Build an Auditorium

MEMORIAL TO SOLDIERS.
Tacoma, Wash., June 30—Plans have been made for entertaining two thousand visitors at the Northwest Peace Jubilee, which opened here today and will continue until the night of July 6.
Besides furnishing citizens of Tacoma and her guests with many forms of entertainment, the object of the jubilee is to raise $500,000 with which to build an auditorium here as a memorial to soldiers and sailors who accomplished valiant deeds during the world war.
The most spectacular of the attractions, which have been planned will be the replica of the famous battle of the Argonne. Under the command of Col. Harvey Miller, of the 1st Infantry, 1,500 Camp Lewis soldiers will participate. The "battle" will last for three hours, and will be produced two days, July 3 and 5.
Automobile races will be the main Fourth of July attraction.

PROPERTY OWNERS MUST CUT WEEDS
Will be Given Until July 10 to Comply with City Ordinance, City Officials State.

AFTER THAT, THEY MUST PAY.
City officials today issued a statement calling the attention of the property owners in Rushville to cut the weeds surrounding their premises, and on vacant lots in the corporate limits. This is an annual affair and people are often neglectful of weeds which grow rapidly in the summer.
The ordinance provides that all weeds are to be cut, and if the property owners fail to cut them, the city street department is authorized to cut them, and charge the expense of doing so, up to the property owners. The weeds are to be cut by July 10, and after that, the city department will see to it that the ordinance is enforced.

ATHLETICS IN BAD CONDITION

Philadelphia Fans Have Two Clubs to Support and Owners Are Unwilling to Help
REFUSE TO BRING STARS
To Take Heroic Efforts on Part of Owners to Land Them Again in The Favor of Fans

By H. C. HAMILTON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, June 30.—The fans of Philadelphia are in an unenviable position.
They have two baseball clubs to support and neither of the owners of the teams is willing to spend money to bring stars of the game to them.
The case of the Athletics is most disappointing. When Connie Mack used the axe on his old-time wrecking crew, it was generally believed that he would use the money obtained in buying promising youngsters, and, adding to this, his ability to scratch the sticks for young stars, would build soon a team practically the equal of the old club.
Connie hasn't done this, nor has he even come fairly close. A couple of years ago Mack's team was sadly struck when the army and navy took over most of his men. Some of the experts then told of what a great team was in the making for Mack and sympathized with him. Most of those men have come back to Mack and those he has not released, for the most part, are wearing the togs of other clubs and are showing nothing of great importance.
Win Noyes, pitcher, still is in the army, or was when last heard from. The addition of this fine right-hander would be a great help to Mack and might assist him to recover some of his lost prestige. He has the nucleus of a good hurling corps but the rest of his club surely looks like a second division—probably last place—organization.

The Phillies were humiliated by the release of Pat Moran after that smart leader had landed them once in a world's series and made other brave tries with them. He was quickly picked up by the Reds and meantime Jack Coombs, former Athletic pitcher and lately with the Dodgers, was engaged to lead the Phils. He has done nothing of consequence. His team has been shot to pieces and the men he did retain are only mediocre. He has not strengthened the club a particle.
In the release of Moran there probably was an aroma of the sale of Grover Cleveland Alexander, who was turned over to the Chicago Cubs without Moran's ever having been consulted. Moran probably kicked against this and was released for his pains.
Whatever the result of the tinkering with the club, it certainly is in an awful rut and the Athletics are in a worse one. It will take heroic measures on the part of owners of both clubs to land them again in the favor of the fans.

GERMANY DREAMS STILL OF CONQUEST

IT IS NOT A GENERAL HOPE.

By CARL D. GROAT.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Berlin, (By Mail).—Germany hasn't altogether lost her dream of military conquest. Or, perhaps, it is more accurate to say that some persons within Germany still cherish hopes for the regeneration of militarism.
A few ambitious men are anxious to have Germany build up her youth through physical training in the schools, so that some day when the present war is well in the background and peace is years old, Germany can build a new military machine.
To say this is a general hope would be far from the truth. The common people don't want any more war. Some of them frankly say they had enough of it the first day they were in it. And there are plenty who now say that the Kaiser misled them, and that the military crowd betrayed them.
Certain it is that the liberals feel that there was much blindness about the causes of the war, and the reasons for continuing it. Germany was fed on patriotic propaganda for a long time and with successes came a lust for more victories and more territory. But, reverses and the final glimmerings of the truth as to the Kaiser and militarism converted many Germans from the policies of iron and blood.

True, there was from the time of the armistice to the time of presentation of the peace terms many of the "old guard" in power. And some of these felt that there was a chance for Germany "to come back". To them, the allied peace terms proved the greatest shock, though everywhere there was surprise that the victors' terms proved as strong as they did.
The liberals complained that Germany clung too much to the things of the past—that too many men with Kaiser affiliations stayed on after the republic was formed and, strange to say the flag of the empire up to this writing has been more in evidence than the flag of the republic.
In fact, in the demonstrations of May 18, an American here for several months, declared that he had seen the republican colors for the first time.

An example of how Germany has persisted in the things of the past is illustrated in its publicity. Here, there is still "propaganda"—and considerable figuring as to whether this or that piece of news will be favorable to Germany when it goes abroad.
The first day that this writer talked with a German official he was asked as to whether certain bits of information would be kindly received in America. And so it goes.
Many believe, however, that, after all, a new deal is about to come in Germany which shall make her more truly liberal than she has been in recent years. As for militarism, nobody seriously believes that it can rear its head for years to come—if ever.

The Thomas Changeable Speed Mower
The great exclusive advantage of our two-speed mower is bringing us an ever increasing trade. No other mower has it. You don't have to run the mower all the time on the usual fast speed required for heavy cutting, because in medium grass and hay and light hay, weeds, etc., you can use the slower speed and thus save a great deal of wear on the machine. These gears run in a bath of oil. The sickle bar has three adjustments.
COME AND SEE THIS MOWER AND ALLOW US TO EXPLAIN IT TO YOU.

MASON TIRES

The surplus mileage given by Mason Cord Tires reflects the wide experience and expert knowledge of the master tire builders in the MASON organization.

Every point that could possibly add to service and economy was considered in establishing the MASON standard. Each individual tire must come up to this standard.

In most cases the mileage given by Mason Tires far exceeds our liberal adjustment which is 10,000 miles for cords and 8,000 for fabrics. The only tire that went the entire distance in the last speedway races without a change.

We also handle a complete line of all standard makes of cord and fabric tires.

Silk Stockings of Gun Cotton

Paris, (By Mail)—Clad in stockings, ball gowns and lingerie made of artificial silk, Milday is encased in precisely the same material of which high explosives are made—gun cotton.

That there is no danger, however, that in the midst of a ball Milday may finish like a puff of shrapnel or the explosion of a shell was the positive assurance to the United Press of Count Hilaire of Chardonnay, the inventor of artificial silk.

At the age of 30 years, this illustrious chemist and scientist has just been elected to the supreme honor of membership in the French Academy of Sciences for his discovery of how to put one over on the silk worms.

During the war he had been decorated by the French Minister of War with the Cross of a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor for discoveries relative to the manufacture of high explosives growing out of his researches made primarily to render artificial silk stockings non-explosive.

According to Count Hilaire, his artificial silk, which is now produced by vast factories in Switzerland, Belgium, France, Italy, England, and the United States, has for its basis nothing less than gun cotton. One of the greatest problems he had to solve in perfecting it for everyday use was to render it non-explosive.

The gun cotton under the Chardonnay process is first dissolved in a mixture of alcohol and ether and then spun through fine capillary tubes by means of hydraulic pressure. Other chemical processes give it

The World Demands Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime. Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork.

By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco; indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burroughly vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidity, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to deficient blood.

People with plenty of red blood, courage and strong healthy nerves have no desire to shrink away and flinch at others for weakness and support.

There is hardly a more important aim or purpose (aiming at an excess) in America today who cannot improve their blood by taking a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime. Do not stop until you feel better. Then if you feel that you are not getting the full benefit of the medicine, you may stop for a week or two and then resume. You will find that you are not only getting the full benefit of the medicine, but you are also getting the full benefit of the medicine.
